

Who is on the partnership?

The Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015 requires five public agencies to deliver the community planning function. In Inverness other key partners include representatives from local third sector (charitable) organisations, a manager from High Life Highland as well as representatives from other organisations providing services in the local area.

The Inverness Community Partnership incorporates Core Partners as well as Additional Partners which are listed separately below; together these groups make up the full membership of the partnership.

As the Inverness Community Partnership identifies specific actions, other organisations and community groups will join the sub-groups to help provide the required knowledge, support and resources to achieve our outcomes.
